

How to use the chart for the guidelines for the recommended maximum duration of exposure to noise For the purpose of this chart, the following definitions apply: Exposure level is the average sound pressure level (A-weighted) over the exposure period. Exposure duration is the duration of the exposure period. Exposure frequency is the frequency of the exposure period. Exposure level is the average sound pressure level (A-weighted) over the exposure period. Exposure duration is the duration of the exposure period. Exposure frequency is the frequency of the exposure period.
